

Wage subsidy program extended and uncapped

- 12 month 50% wage subsidy, up to $7k per quarter
- Open to new workers & workers with a change to employment status

As of May 11 2021, the Federal Government announced the extension of the Boosting Apprenticeship Commencements (BAC) program. The program will subsidise 50% of gross wages paid to eligible trainees between 5 October 2020 and 31 March 2022 for for a 12-month period from the date of commencement, to a maximum of $7,000 per quarter.

The subsidy is no longer capped and is open to employers of any size or industry, Australia-wide, for both new and existing workers studying a Certificate II or higher qualification as part of a formal training contract (who are not receiving any other form of government subsidy, e.g., JobKeeper).

For more information on applying for the subsidy, please contact our Business Development team:

NSW & ACT – Paul Callan | 0429 794 384 | paul.callan@ltt.edu.au

WA, SA & NT – Jeremy Heathcote | 0412 371 471 | jeremy.heathcote@ltt.edu.au

QLD – Ben Lunn | 0417 502 963 | ben.lunn@ltt.edu.au

VIC & TAS – Deborah Rulach | 0402 507 769 | deborah.rulach@ltt.edu.au

We offer a range of laboratory and health streams to suit industry, including construction materials testing, asphalt, pathology, food, environmental, and mining; and are able to liaise on behalf of the employer with the relevant Australian Apprenticeship Support Network provider to determine eligibility for the following nationally recognised qualifications available through LTT:

- MSL30118 Certificate III in Laboratory Skills
- MSL40118 Certificate IV in Laboratory Techniques
- MSL50118 Diploma of Laboratory Technology
- MSL60118 Advanced Diploma of Laboratory Operations¹

¹ Traineeships unavailable in NSW, NT, TAS & VIC